

Gender, Sexual Nationalism, Antisemitism and Orientalism in European Identity Discourses

First Workshop, May 30 – June 1, 2013, Maastricht University (NL),
Grote Gracht 80-82, Room 0.001 & the Spiegelzaal

Outline of the Conference Topic

Taking our lead from new theoretical perspectives on “sexual nationalism,” neo-Orientalism and contemporary body politics, this workshop will start with a discussion of current debates about the comparability of Antisemitism and “Islamophobia.” Secondly, it will concentrate on historical constructions of Jewish identity from the perspective of colonialism and Orientalism. How did the stereotypes of the external and the internal Other intertwine? What role did/do gender and processes of sexualization and ‘aesthetic formations’ play therein? The first workshop aims at a state-of-the-art overview of gender and postcolonial studies approaches to intersections of new and old Orientalism, pre-Shoa Antisemitism, and the ambivalent trope of an ‘inner Orient,’ as can be seen, for example, in the figure of the “beautiful Jewess.”

Format

The workshops’ format aims to foster intensive exchange, development of the network, getting in contact, learning from each other, comparing the different case studies, historical fields, and methodological approaches, and strengthening common ground and goals. Within the public part each speaker has 30 minutes, plus 10 minutes for direct questions and remarks, within the internal workshop each speaker has 20 minutes plus 10 minutes direct Q&A. Afterwards, we will have a plenary discussion about each unit. In the program you’ll find the ‘respondent’ function. Since we do not have time for elaborate responses, the ‘respondents’ will formulate some questions and add remarks about the session to create a reflective form of communication. Only the starting session on Thursday will be public.

Program & Schedule

Thursday, May 30, 2013, the Spiegelzaal

14:30-15:30 Registration and Coffee

15:30- 16:00 Ulrike Brunotte (Maastricht) Welcome and Introduction

Session A, Chair: Ulrike Brunotte, Respondent: Jay Geller

16:00-16:30 Juliane Wetzel (Berlin): Towards a comparability of Antisemitism and Islamophobia

16:30-16:40 Q&A

16:40-17:10 Achim Rohde (Marburg): Inner Orient: Antisemitism and the (Self-)Orientalization of the (German) Jews

17:10-17:20 Q&A

17:20-17:30 Break

17:30-18:00 Axel Stähler (Canterbury, UK): Constructions of Jewish Identity and the Spectre of Colonialism

18:00-18:10 Q&A

18:10 -18:30 Respondent's comments, open discussion

20:00 Dinner in La Rilette, St. Pieterstraat 54

Friday, May 31, 2013, Room 0.001

Session B, Chair/Respondent: Christina Spaeti (Zürich)

9:15-9:45 Anna-Dorothea Ludewig (Potsdam): “Alle diese orientalischen Gestalten aber übertreffen die Frauen unseres traurigen und gemeinen Abendlandes” Das Bild der Jüdin in der europäischen Literatur des 19. und beginnenden 20. Jahrhunderts

9:45-10:15 Stefanie Schüler-Springorum (Berlin): Was wir alles nicht wissen. Deutsch-jüdische Geschlechtergeschichte im langen 19. Jahrhundert

10:15- 10:45 Respondent's comments, discussion

10:45-11:00 Coffee

Chair: Christina Spaeti, Respondent: Claudia Bruns (Berlin)

11:00-11:30 Tatjana Petzer (Berlin/Zürich): Schleier in Aktion. Der Oriental Turn in Mode und Kunst

11:30-12:00 Sarah Dornhof (Frankfurt/Oder): Verkörperter Protest: Die Wiederkehr orientalistischer Klischees in gegenwärtiger visueller Protestkultur

12:00-12:30 Christina von Braun (Berlin): To see or not to see. Auge und Geschlecht in der jüdischen, christlichen und muslimischen Kultur

12:30- 13:00 Respondent's comments, discussion

13:00-14:00 Lunch break

Chair/Respondent: Susanne Enderwitz, Respondent: Daniel Wildmann

14:00-14:30 Claudia Bruns (Berlin): Interrelationen zwischen Rassismus, Antisemitismus und Orientalismus um 1900

14:30-15:00 Jan den Hond (Amsterdam): "How 'oriental' is Christ allowed to be". Discussions on the Oriental Character and Outlook of Christ in Dutch Orientalism

15:00-15:30 Respondent's comments, discussion

15:30-15:45 Coffee

Chair: Susanne Enderwitz, Respondent: Willy Jansen and Stefanie Schüler-Springorum

15:45-16:15 Patricia Plummer (Duisburg/Essen): "All men dream: but not equally": Imperial Desire. Homoeroticism, Colonial Contact

16:15-16:45 Paul Mepschen (Amsterdam): Sexual Nationalism, Homophobia, Orientalism and Citizenship

16:45- 17:15 Ofer Nur (Tel Aviv): The Contours of softer Masculinity during the Macho Period of Zionism: Hashomer Hatzair in the 1920s

17:15-17:30 Coffee

17:30-18:00 Respondent's comments, discussion

Dinner

Saturday, June 1, 2013, Room 0.001

Chairs: Ulrike Brunotte (Berlin Network-Partner und Achim Rohde)

9:45-10:15 Open Discussion zum Netzwerk, Struktur, finanzielle Möglichkeiten, erste Publikation, Planung des nächsten Workshops, Europäischer Forschungsantrag: Horizon 2020, COST-application etc.

Chair: Stefanie Schüler-Springorum, Respondents: Tatjana Petzer and Anna-Dorothea Ludewig

10:15-10:45 Jay Geller (USA, Nashville): Kafkas "Schakale und Araber": Gleichnis, Tiergeschichte, dialektisches Bild?

10:45-11:15 Aleksandra Wilczura (PL, Kraków): Philo- and Antisemitic aspects in Conversions to Oriental Religions. Neo-Orientalism in Poland after 1989.

11:15-11:45 Daniel Wildmann (UK, London): Der Blick der Jüdin: Eros und Tod in Paul Wegeners Film Der Golem (1920)

11:45-12:30 Respondent's comments, discussion

12:30 End of the workshop